

Cartoony Graphic

Directions: Follow along in the steps below and always compare my layers to your layers to make certain you're getting everything correct!

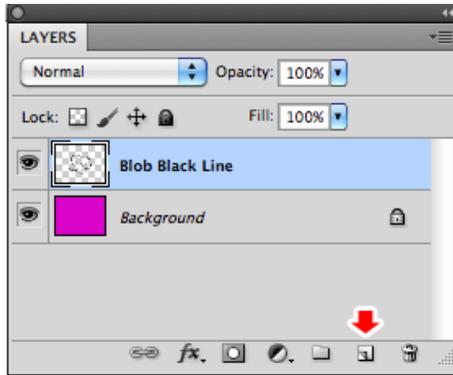

STEP 1: Choose an image that is designed with an empty interior. I chose this image above, but you can choose whatever you want!

BEFORE

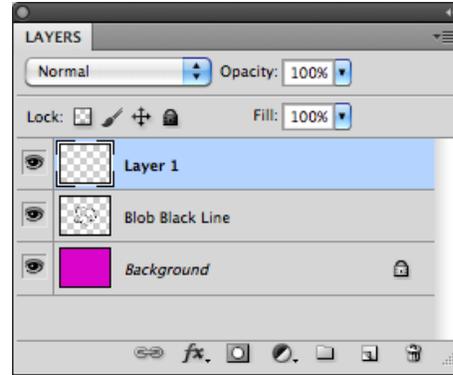

AFTER

STEP 2: Rename the layer to something obvious, BUT also add the words "Black Line"

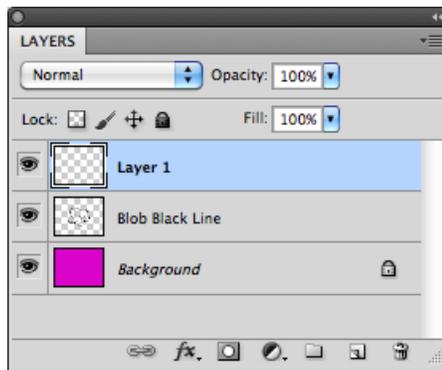

BEFORE

STEP 3: Add a New Layer

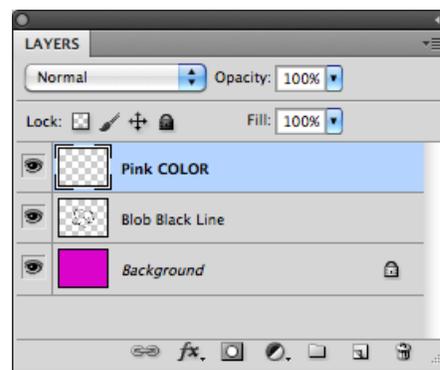

AFTER

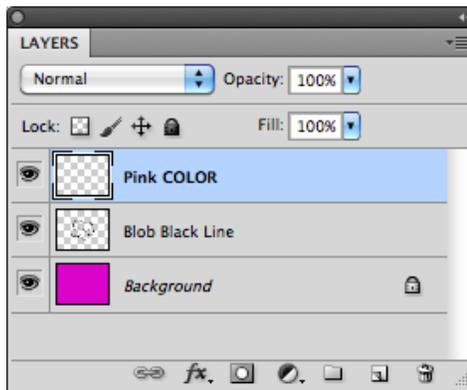

BEFORE

STEP 4: Rename it something obvious to you! Just remember to add the word "Color" to it. Look at my example above.

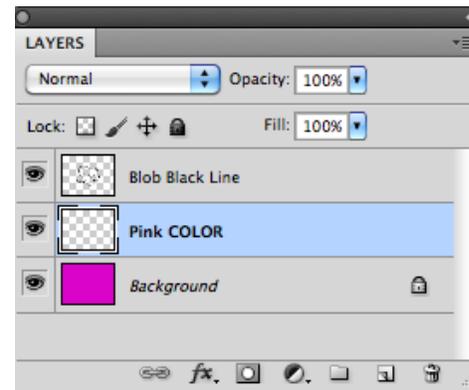

AFTER

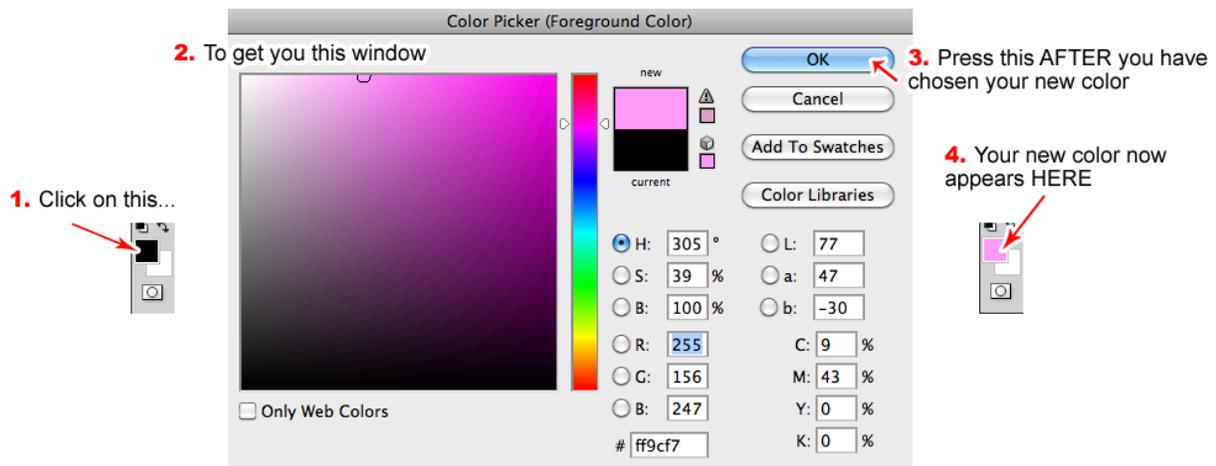

BEFORE

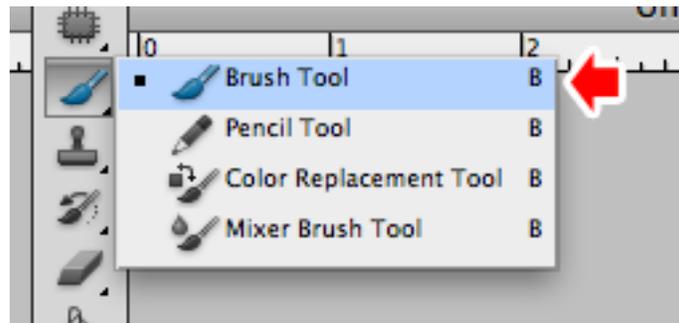

STEP 5: Drag that layer below the Line layer

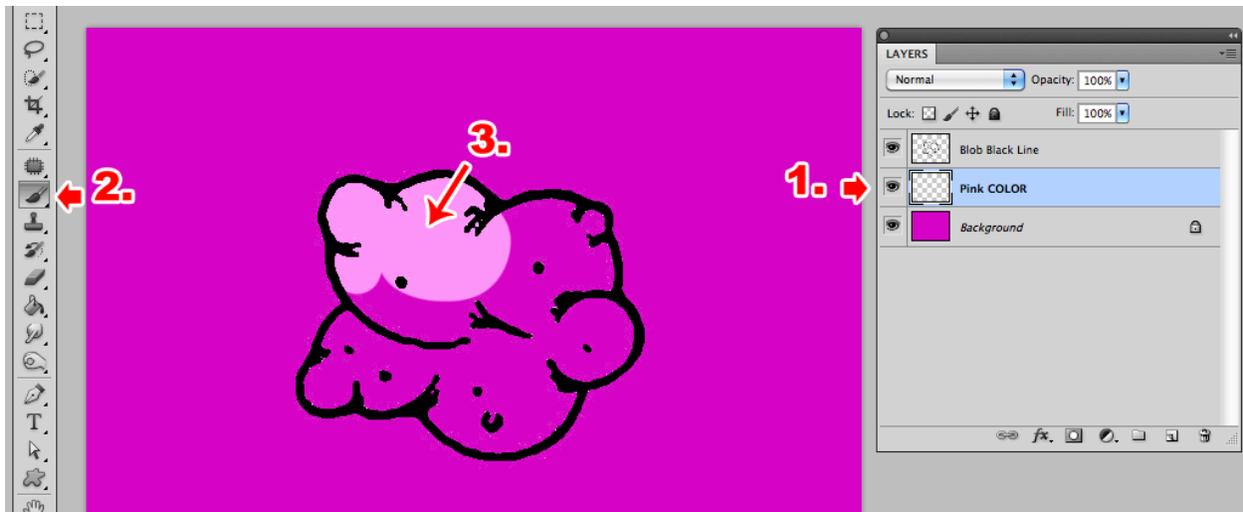

AFTER

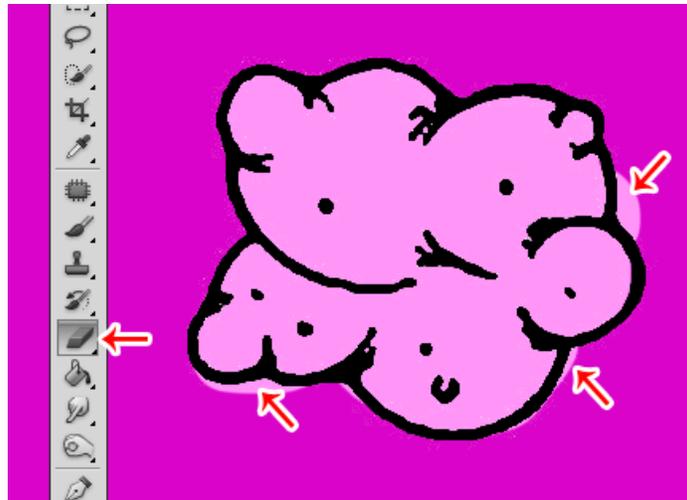

STEP 6: Choose a new color

STEP 7: Select your brush tool (B)

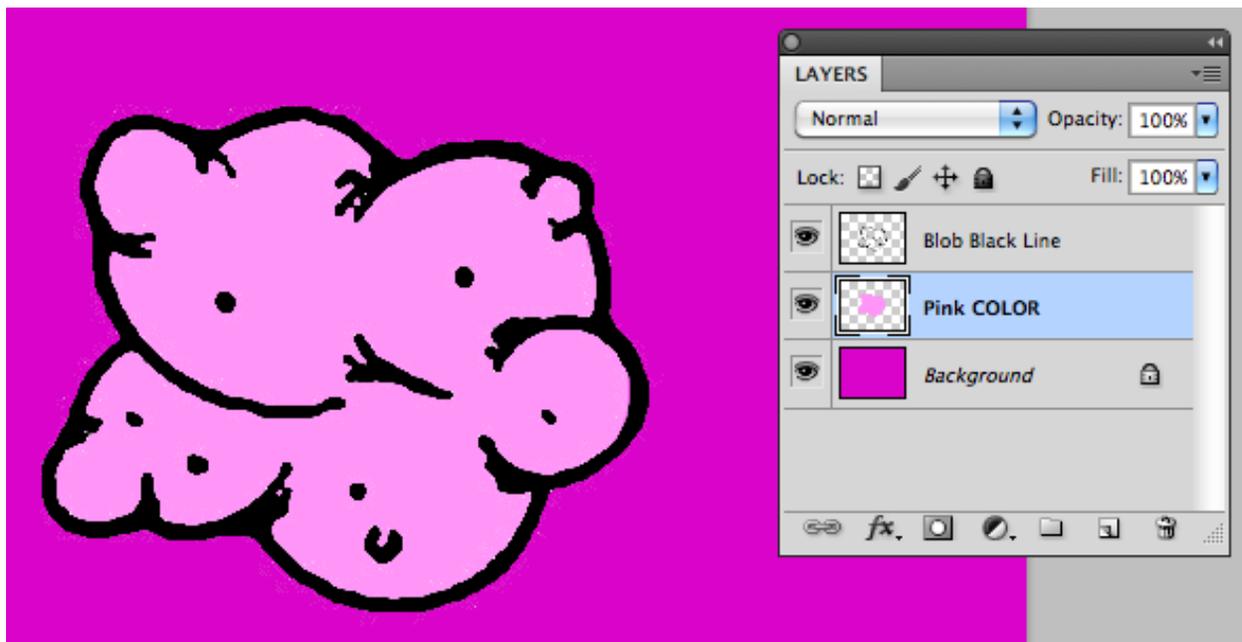

STEP 8: With your "color" layer selected begin painting!

STEP 9: If you make any mistakes, just select your eraser tool and erase all “overspill”

STEP 10: It’s really easy to forget you have the eraser tool selected. Make certain you switch back to the brush tool!

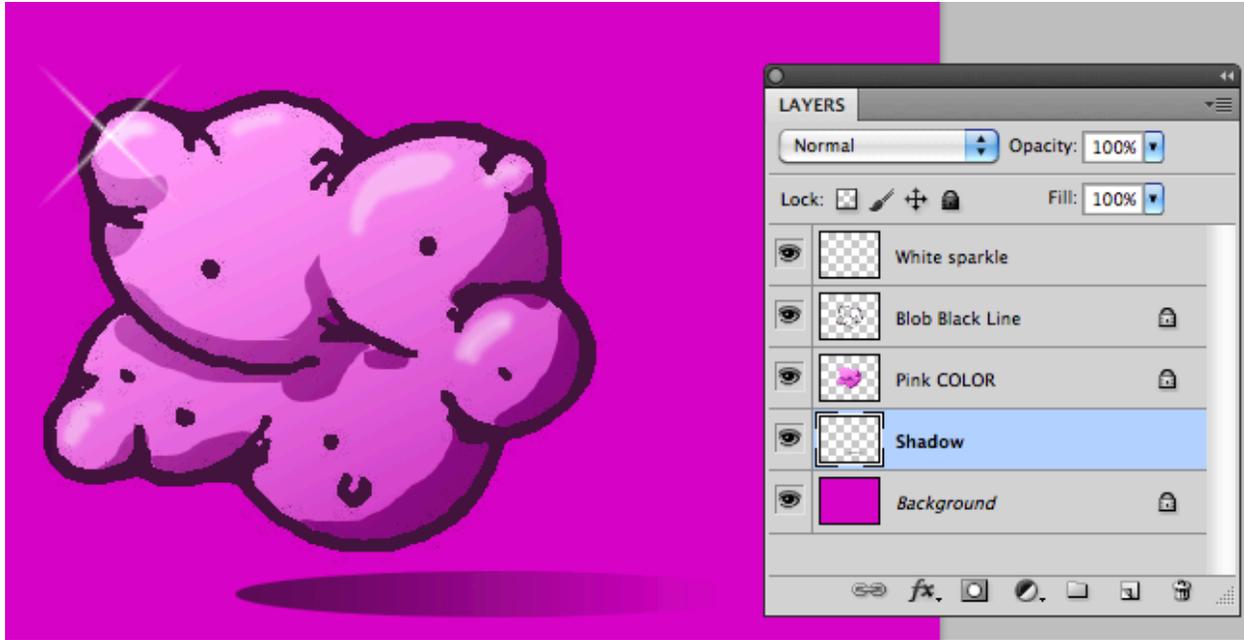

STEP 11: Is it obvious how to make a cartoony graphic? Look at your layers!

STEP 12: With your colored layer selected, lock its transparency

STEP 13: Select the line layer. Lock its transparency

STEP 14: With both layers having a Lock Transparency, feel free to get different colors, brushes, and have fun without worrying about making a mess! I added a couple of layers. Look at my Layers Window above. Can you see and compare what I have in my Layers Window and what you see in the big picture?

STEP 15: Select your bottom-most layer, but DO NOT select the Background layer. Look at my picture above

STEP 16: Hold-down your Shift Key.

STEP 17: Select your top-most layer. In my case, it's my "White sparkle" layer. Look at my picture above.

All of your layers should be selected now!

STEP 18: Press Command + G to put all of these elements into a group / folder.

STEP 19: Open or activate your 13th assignment and drag that folder into your project!

Most students ask: "Do I need to keep that cartoony graphic? Should I save the Photoshop file that I made in this tutorial?"

My answer: After you dragged your cartoony graphic into your 13th assignment, and you see it there then, my answer is, "No".